Hands on training on design of Humanoid Robot

Syllabus

Introduction, history and scope of humanoid robots, State of the art, Kinematics.

Fundamentals of control of humanoids for locomotion and manipulation, biped locomotion kinematics and dynamics, modeling of the contact with the ground.

Motion synthesis for bipeds: optimization method, simplified models.

Passive robots: properties, stability analysis (Poincare map), extension

Control methods for postural stabilization, walking, and running: ZMP, online adaptation, Stability analysis, foot placement.

Humanoid: whole motion control (redundancy). Manipulation and grasping, under actuated hand.

Synthetization and control of bipedal gait; CPGs, ZMP, LGP, other motor behaviors.

Robot vision, Behavior based robotics.

Hardware for humanoid robots, Applications.

Robot interaction, Humanoid robots in society.

1. Physical exams are recommended to all who:

a. are 35 years old or older
b. are extremely overweight
c. have had a recent serious injury
d. suffer abnormal pain while exercising

2. Wear clothing which allows movement and tennis shoes with good court traction. Court shoes are recommended.

3. Discontinue playing if the courts become wet because of the increased danger of slipping.

4. Always be alert as to where the ball is during play and practice so as to avoid being hit be a flying ball.

5. Do not lay balls, cans, clothing or any article on the courts as it is a dangerous practice. Place them on the bleachers, or near the net posts.

6. When walking behind or near courts, be alert and maintain a proper distance away from the players to avoid being hit with a racket or being run into.

7. Players should NEVER attempt to jump over the net.

8. The student is encouraged to do a proper warm-up and stretching exercise before beginning to play to prevent muscle strains or sprains.

9. If injured or not feeling well, inform the instructor so proper care can be taken.

10. Wearing safety equipment for physical exercise or sports participation is at your discretion
